SIR HECTOR IN EARNEST.

HE PRESSES HIS RESIGNATION OF HIS OFFICE.

Premier Abbott Acquiesces—The Sub-Committee Agrees on a Report—Mr. Bowell on Chinese Immigration—Baie des Chaleurs Railway Agreement.

Special to the TIMES.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—When the House met to-day Sir John Thompson read the following correspondence, which fully explains itself:

OTTAWA, Sept. 7, 1891.

My Dear Prime Minister,—I see that at the meeting of the Senate a question was put to you by one of the senators to know whether my resignation as Minister of Public works has been accepted. This question, coming after a similar one in the House of Commons, makes me perceive that there is some misunderstanding about my position and in order to put an end to it I wish, as intended by me, and asked of you, that my resignation may be accepted without further delay. I remain, my dear Prime Minister, Yours very truly,

(signed) HECTOR L. LANGEVIN.

To. Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, Prime Minister.

Following is the reply:

Privy Council,
Ottawa, Sept. 7, 1891.

DEAR SIR HECTOR LANGEVIN,—I have to acknowledge your letter of this morning, requesting that your resignation may be accepted without further delay, and to say that in accordance with your request I shall regard your resignation as final, and shall lay it before His Excellency immediately. I remain, dear Sir Hector, yours very truly,

J. J. C. ABBOTT.

Your correspondent has it on the best authority that the report of the sub-committee of the committee on Privileges and Elections will be unanimous. It will condemn Sir Hector as minister, but will not ask him to vacate his seat, on the ground that he is not supposed to have taken any money personally.

In the Commons on Saturday, an item of $82,000 for the administration of the Chinese Immigration Act coming up, Hon. Mr. Bowell said that the American government is now in communication with the Imperial Government, asking that more restrictive legislation be passed in the Dominion with regard to the admission of Chinese. He said that in British Columbia the Labor party was opposed to the immigration of Chinese more than they ever had been in the past. On the other hand, with employers of labor the Mongolian race was becoming more popular.

O. Dionne, of the Public Works Department, has been suspended as a result of the disclosures before the Public Accounts Committee.

Many politicians believe a re-distribution measure will be introduced at an early date.

An agreement has been reached in regard to the Baie des Chaleurs railway. The application of the new company for a Dominion act of incorporation was opposed by the Ontario bank and McFarlane estate. Incidentally, during the Senate Committee inquiry, all the boodling disclosures took place. Now the new company has agreed to incorporate a clause in the bill providing for a deposit of $180,000 in the Bank of Montreal as security for the payment of McFarlane's claim and also to pay whatever award is made by the courts in the civic suit now in progress. Even if the bill amended passes the House, it is understood there will be a successful opposition to it in the Senate.

The U. S. and Chili.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A special cable from Santiago, Chili, of Sept. 6 says:—The provisional government of Chili will be officially recognized by the government of the United States tomorrow. Minister Patrick Egan to-day received a cable dispatch from the State Department at Washington, instructing him to treat with the Junta del Gobierno as the government de facto of the country. Information to this effect was unofficially conveyed to Senor Montt, president of the Junta, soon after the receipt of the cable dispatch, but official action will not be taken before to-morrow. Minister Egan will be cordially received by the Junta for the news he brings, if for nothing else. The members of the provisional government were much pleased at the receipt of this information, though not surprised. They felt that as soon as the United States understood the situation here, that order had been restored throughout the country and that the authority of the Junta was recognized, Mr. Egan would receive the instructions which came to him to-day. It is the opinion here that Senor Montt, who is now in Washington as the representative of the Junta, will be the regularly accredited minister from Chili to the United States as soon as the matter can be reached. This it is thought will not be many days hence.

Drowned while Boating.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 7.—Jefferson D. Stewart, a married man with four children, and Mrs. Jane Kennedy, a married woman with two children, went out for a boat ride on Ponce de Leon Lake after eight o'clock last night. They had with them another boat and two companions, Henry Gignalliat and Miss Ida Harmon. The lake is away out of town, and is a lonely spot. The two couples took separate boats, and there in the dark were having a pleasant time. Suddenly Gignalliat heard a scream, and looking around beheld no trace of the other boat. It had disappeared with its occupants as completely as if it had never existed. Miss Harmon fainted, and it was with difficulty that Gignalliat saved himself from the fate of his companions. Reaching shore and laying his unconscious companion upon the grass, he rushed off and gave the alarm. About ten o'clock about 200 men had gathered from the city with drags and grappling irons. For four hours they dragged before success rewarded them. The man was first fished out, then the woman. The watch in the man's pocket had stopped at 8.05. Stewart had visited Mrs. Kennedy's house early in the evening and suggested the trip. His wife is on a visit to Tennessee, while the woman's husband is in Douglas County.

Bloodshed in Nicaragua.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Ramon Veleze, of the Revista Popular of this city, has received a letter from his agent at Granada, Nicaragua, which states that the chief of police and a number of his soldiers were shot during the riots in that city on August 23, and that more than fifty citizens and rioters were either killed or wounded. He says five persons had been suspected of making a movement against the government—ex-President Chammorro, ex-President Lavalla, Anselmo Rivas and Senors Enrique, Gazman and Rodriguez—and they were apprehended and imprisoned. The rioters included a number of prominent citizens. They were armed with rifles and attacked the barracks, firing on the garrison. It required a supreme effort on the part of the soldiers, a number of whom were killed, to repel the attack. On August 25 the suspected revolutionists were tried, found guilty and condemned to perpetual exile with the warning that that they would be immediately shot if found on Nicaraguan soil.

Bernhardt Endures a Rough Voyage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—The steamer Mariposa, from Australia, was delayed a day in arriving here on account of a severe storm experienced between Sydney and Auckland. The storm lasted four days and the seas frequently broke over the vessel and the cabins were soaking. The pilot house and smoking-room were stoven in and some other damage done. Those on deck narrowly escaped being washed overboard. Antonio, one of Mme. Bernhardt's valets, and the ship's doctor were slightly injured. The steamer was six days in making the passage between Sydney and Auckland, which is usually made in four days. Among the steamer's passengers were Mme. Bernhardt and company, who were tendered a reception on their arrival here.

Chasing the Train Robbers.

GALVESTON, Sept. 7.—Reports received at Galveston to-night, concerning the story of a battle between the authorities and the perpetrators of the train robbery on the Southern Pacific Railway on Tuesday lack confirmation. Dispatches to-night from Del Rio report that a part of the train robber gang is being trailed into the fastnesses of the Santa Rosa mountains, while the rest have taken up the Rio Grande, crossing and recrossing to obliterate the tracks. Several mail bags, with piles of half burned letters, have been found on the Santa Rosa trail.

A Chinese Victory.

BATTLESBORO, V. T., Sept. 7.—The Chinamen arrested at Windsor under the exclusion act and ordered to return to China by U. S. Commissioner Johnston, but whose case was appealed on the ground that they held permits from the Dominion Government to return to that country, were to-day ordered to return to Canada by Judge H. H. Wheeler in the U. S. circuit court. This decision is important, as it is claimed that all emigrants can readily obtain these permits, thus practicably nullifying the exclusion act.

Chilian Ex-Minister Departs.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 5.—Senor Don Prudencio Lazcano, the Chilian minister, has given up the house he has occupied here for a time, and accompanied by his wife left this afternoon for New York. It is believed he is on his way to Europe.

SUBJECTS OF THE CZAR.

FOREIGNERS MUST NATURALIZE IN RUSSIA.

Lady Brooke and Her Relatives—Doings of French Divorce Detectives—The Jews and Palestine—Russian Army Manœuvres—Soldiers on the Frontier.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The Russian Minister of the Interior is being overwhelmed with applications by foreigners who desire to become Russian subjects. The applicants live for the most part in the western border provinces, and are chiefly Germans. It is estimated that fully 30,000 have been naturalized during the year. The motive is an apprehension that the Government is about to take harsh measures against foreigners resident in Russia, by depriving them of the right to hold real estate, and of other privileges which they have found profitable. Much of the business of Western Russia and Poland is carried on by Germans, whose expulsion would bring misery not only on themselves but on vast numbers of native employees. Nevertheless there is reason for the statement that a measure may shortly be looked for, taking both business and land out of the hands of foreigners and compelling them to give up their property in Russia, as the Jews have done, for anything that is offered. A St. Petersburg correspondent says that the Czar is resolved to have no one within Russian bounds who is not a subject of Russia.

THE FRENCH DIVORCE LAW.

A Paris dispatch says that a strong public sentiment is developing in the city in favor of a demonstration to secure amendments to the divorce law that will restrain somewhat the evils that have grown rampant under it. The private divorce detective has become an intolerable nuisance, hesitating at nothing in order to obtain evidence, and manufacturing it when it is to be got no other way. He also, as appears by a case now in the hands of the police, is capable of blackmail, and does not stop short of deliberate theft. The case in question is that of Madame Daparat, a lady in business, who was spied upon by a fellow named Card. She suspected a snare and succeeded in turning the detective over to the police, who are now hunting up his record, which proves to be very unsavory. He first took four hundred francs from the husband to get evidence and then demanded two thousand francs from the wife as the price of revealing what he claimed to know to the husband. When he could not get the two thousand francs he deliberately stole five hundred francs and was arrested.

LADY BROOKE.

The Earl of Warwick, father of Lord Brooke, who is the husband of Lady Brooke, of baccarat scandal fame, is very sick. He is subject to periodical fainting fits, and is expected to die in one before long. He is over 73 years of age, and has been in feeble health for some time. Lady Brooke has of late kept in the back ground and has shown a disposition to avoid the social glare. Lord Brooke seems as much devoted to her as ever, and if any divorce was meditated there is no sign of such feeling now.

JEWS BARRED OUT OF PALESTINE.

A letter was published here to-day from the minister in charge of Christ Church, at Jerusalem, saying that the sultan had stopped the influx of Russian Jews, and that he will not permit them to land in Palestine without a special order. Fifty families who arrived recently were sent back. The letter adds that Baron Hirsch ought to arrange with the Porte terms of settlement which would permit Jews to locate in in Palestine. The writer says that at present that section is thinly settled. If the country were terraced, planted and supplied with water reservoirs, it would be highly productive, and the cost would be small in comparison with the expensive system adopted in South American countries.

RUSSIA'S MANŒUVRES.

The Russian grand manœuvres will take place in the governments of Kieff, Podolia and Volhynia. Upwards of 100,000 men will be massed together, and as these are to be drawn from the interior of Russia, there will be no demonstration of the immense force of Russian troops already stationed near the Austrian frontier. On the contrary, many of the troops engaged in the manœuvres will be added to the existing garrisons and serve to swell the vast body of men ready at the briefest notice to be precipitated on the Austrian empire. The Vienna Cabinet, it is stated, is fully alive to the situation, and doing the best that can be done to counteract these moves. There is an army of Austrian spies in Western Russia, and the War Office at Vienna is kept minutely informed as to every movement of the Russian troops.

MATTERS IN MADAGASCAR.

The latest advices from Madagascar represent the Hovas as in a condition bordering on revolt against the French dictation. They are only restrained by the determination of the ruling prime minister to acquiesce in the situation for the present.

FREE SCHOOLS IN ENGLAND.

The free schools in England, now open as such under the Education Act, are receiving a remarkable increase in attendance, thus fully refuting those who predicted the failure of the system.

TO PROTECT ITALIAN RESIDENTS.

The North American Gazette says that at the request of the Italian Government, Germany has undertaken to protect Italian residents in Chili.

THE TURKISH GOVERNMENT.

A dispatch from Constantinople says: Schmidt Eyab has been appointed Governor of Crete, to succeed Dejevat Pasha, who has been promoted from the governorship to Grand Vizier. A rumor, which it is impossible to confirm, is current here to the effect that Kiamil Pasha, the recently deposed Grand Vizier, is suffering imprisonment. His dismissal is now understood to be due to complicity in a plot for the deposition of the Sultan.

Sophie Guensberg Suicides.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 5.—Sophie Guensberg, the famous nihilist, who was sentenced in November last to imprisonment for life at Schlussenberg, an island of the Neva, 21 miles from here, has committed suicide. Sophie Guensberg has been despondent for many months past, but recently she seemed to be regaining her usual spirits. Finally she became possessed of a pair of scissors, and with them she hacked her throat in such a determined manner that she died. Sophie was tried in November, 1890, at St. Petersburg, for having been implicated in a plot against the life of the Czar. The trial was concluded on November 15, 1890, and she was condemned to be hanged. For a long time the life of Sophie hung in the balance, but she was sentenced to imprisonment for life and was sent to Schlussenberg, where she died. Sophie and other nihilists had been previously tried in Paris for having explosive bombs in their possession. She was much admired by the nihilists in France and Switzerland.

No Evidence Against Him.

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—Carleton Graves, the American who on Saturday last was arrested at Mayence on a charge of being a spy, has been liberated. The government had nothing on which to hold him. When Graves was arrested he represented himself as being a photographer and his residence as being "Columbia." His luggage was seized for evidence of his guilt, it now appears, to no purpose.

Pardoned by the Emperor.

WEISBADEN, Sept. 7.—Emperor William has pardoned Mrs. O'Neill, wife of Gen. O'Neill, who claimed to be an officer in the United States army. She shot and dangerously wounded her husband on May 24 last, and has since been in prison. Mrs. O'Neill will be at once released from confinement.

East India Crop Prospects.

CALCUTTA, Sept. 5.—A dispatch from Simla announces that the agricultural prospects have generally taken a turn for the better, and the affected districts of Madras and Hyderabad are also improving.

LABOR DAY.

Celebrations at Various Points in the States To-day.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 7.—The Labor Day celebration showed falling off from former years, about 2000 men being in line in the parade, against 5000 and 10,000 one and two years ago respectively. The greatest defection was in the carpenters' ranks, only 300 men turning out against 2500 two years ago. After the parade the day was celebrated by games at Recreation park.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 7.—Labor Day was celebrated here on a scale of unusual magnitude. Special prominence was given to the character of the celebration by the presence as an honored guest of the city and its toilers of Governor Hill. The Governor arrived about 8 o'clock this morning and was escorted by the citizens' committee to the Iroquois Hotel, where breakfast was served. After breakfast the Governor received his personal friends until 10 o'clock. At that hour his excellency took a seat on the balcony of the hotel to view the parade.

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—A heavy northeastern storm began yesterday and continued ever since. It effectually prevented the proposed labor day convention and caused an indefinite postponement of the numerous picnics and athletic sports. Business was generally suspended. At other cities in the vicinity, at Concord, N.H., and at Portland, Maine, the exercises of the day were curtailed by the stormy weather.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 7.—Labor Labor Day was generally observed as a holiday. Nearly all the business houses and manufacturing establishments were closed. The buildings were liberally decorated and 15,000 workingmen after parading through the principal streets went to the Forest City Park, where a monster picnic is being held.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—San Francisco organized workingmen opened the celebration of Labor Day by a parade in the morning through the principal streets of the city. The procession was a long one, 10 divisions being in line. There will be athletic exercises this afternoon and a grand ball this evening.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 7.—The weather is showery. The bicycle parade of the L. A. W. is postponed until to-morrow. The Charter Oak Park races will take place unless the rain increases. Showers interfered somewhat with the Labor Day demonstration, but business is quite largely suspended.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Labor Day is generally observed. The morning was cloudy, with threatening skies. About eleven o'clock the weather altered and the sun came out bright. The workmen celebrated the occasion by two parades. They were made respectively by the Central Labor Union and the Central Federation. The most remarkable among the banners carried in the parade were those carried by the laundrymen. They were in the form of transparencies. Among them were: "Chinese highbinders live by smuggling and defy our laws;" "Americans, don't patronize Chinese labor." Another banner illustration was in the form of a sickly-looking Chinaman in the act of ironing a shirt, with the inscription 'Avoid leprosy." Still another bore, "The Chinese are vampires, sucking the blood of the people." It is roughly estimated that there were 25,000 paraders in line. Both processions were viewed by large crowds, and the participants were frequently applauded. Everything passed off quietly.

Chinese Leper at Oakland.

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 5.—A Chinaman, supposed to have leprosy, was discovered to-day on the San Leandro road, three miles out from Oakland. The discovery creates much excitement.

NEWS OF THE DOMINION.

Business Notes—Reports on the Crops—Happenings of Various Kinds.

At Brockville, Ont., Mrs. William Dowell, aged 30, suicided with carbolic acid.

A horse belonging to Cleophas Routhier, living near Ottawa, kicked its owner in the head and killed him.

James P. Snook, builder and contractor, Toronto, has assigned, with liabilities in the neighborhood of $15,000.

A suit of clothes and a gold watch were stolen by burglars from the residence of Peter Ryan, registrar of East Toronto.

James Ross, a bookbinder in Mortimer's establishment, Ottawa, has gone to Scotland to claim a large fortune left him by relatives.

Mr. H. Sarby, on the Portage la Prairie plains, had cut up to Saturday evening, the 29th inst., 630 acres. He expects to have 35,000 bushels of wheat this season.

Fishing operations in Lake Winnipeg have been unusually successful this season. All the freezers on the lake shores are already filled, and two new freezers are under course of erection at Selkirk.

There is to be no autumn exhibition in Hamilton this year. The Crystal Palace in that city has been pulled down. The North Wentworth fair is to be held at Dundas, and the South Wentworth fair will probably be held at Stony Creek.

Rev. J. E. Starr, pastor of the Elm Street Methodist Church, Toronto, in a recent sermon spoke in strong condemnatory terms of the corruption at Ottawa. Many incidents in the recent developments he looked upon as hopeful signes of the times, one of which was the admirable stand taken by the Reform press.

Farmers in the Brockville district are pretty well through harvest, and report the best crops they have had for years. The recent copious rains have had the effect of keeping the pastures very fresh for this season of the year. There is, therefore, a good flow of milk and a consequent more than ordinary heavy make of cheese.

It is generally understood now by the people of North Grey that they will soon secure connection by railway with the Grand Trunk system through the proposed extension from Owen Sound to Park Head, a distance of only thirteen miles, and toward the construction of which the municipalities directly concerned have already voted bonuses to the amount of $85,500 and which is supplemented by the Dominion subsidy of $3,200 per mile.

Bradstreet's report for last week says: There is more activity shown in nearly all staple lines in the Dominion millinery fall opening. Sales at both Toronto and Montreal have been unusually successful. Sales of drygoods are larger as well. The Dominion reports 17 business failures this week against 21 last week and 23 this week last year. The total number from January 1st to date is 1221 against 1105 last year.

Mr. Samuel B. Clarke, taxing officer at the Toronto law courts, had a narrow escape from death. While the steamer Campana was at St. Catharines he attempted to land without the assistance of the gang plank and slipped from the wharf into the water striking his head against a projecting spar. Owing to the darkness and confusion some time elapsed before he was rescued, and when taken from the water he was unconscious and almost dead.

Says a Montreal dispatch: The government is likely to have trouble in appointing a successor to the late Sir Antoine Dorion, Chief Justice of Quebec. The salary is $6000. Senator Lacoste, to whom the position was offered, declined to accept it unless the salary was made $8000, the amount received by the chief justice of the supreme court. The general opinion amongst the members of the bar is that judges are too poorly paid, and unless the government take some action towards increasing salaries, proper men will not be found to fill the vacancies.

There is talk of the Canadian Pacific building the missing links of the St. John Valley railway so as to have an all-rail route on Canadian territory from Montreal to St. John. This talk is due to the fact that Superintendent Timmerman, of the New Brunswick division of the Canadian Pacific railway, and Engineer Brewer have been driving over the route of the proposed road from Fredericton to Woodstock in company with W. T. Whitehead, C.E., and that they held a consultation at Fredericton with Mr. Vanwart, secretary of the St. John Valley and River du Loup Railway company.

The Montreal Bulletin says: Mr. J. J. Vipond, of the firm of J. J. Vipond & Co., who has just returned from a trip through the principal apple sections of Ontario, states that in the counties of Lambton, Middlesex, Kent, Elgin, Oxford, Wentworth, Prince Edward, Durham and Northumberland there will be two-thirds of an average crop of clean, large and fine fruit. Perth, Huron, Wellington and Halton about one-half of a good average crop, and Haldimand, Lincoln, Brant and Essex counties about one-fourth of an average crop. The balance of counties, it is said, will not be over one-quarter of an average one. The crop of early varieties was large, but the winter crop will not be as bulky as at first reported. The recent storms in England, it appears, have done an immense amount of injury to the fruit crop, and after all Great Britain may require a large portion of our yield.

A collision between some Methodists and the Christian Scientists, in the northwestern part of Toronto, is causing controversy. Mrs. Nathan Maynard, of Mansfield avenue, a member of the Clinton street Methodist church, it is alleged, has been benefitted by the ministrations of the Christian Scientists. The pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Manning, who is opposed to the doctrines of the Scientists, is greatly agitated over the fact that some members of that church have been associating with the Christian Scientists and practising their principles. Mr. Manning, who has read the books of the Christian Scientists, lately, has denounced Christian Science as a work of the devil. This utterance has caused a great sensation among the Scientists, who claim to have Scripture passages in support of their teachings. The effect of the disputation is to give the business of half a dozen people, who live by the profits of Christian Science a large boom.

Alex. Darrell, clerk in the Traders' Bank, Toronto, was committed for trial, bail being allowed, for alleged indecent assault.

I. L. Pierce, senior member of the firm of Pierce & Pierce, lumber merchants, London, England, died at Ottawa suddenly of apoplexy on Friday night. Pierce has resided in Ottawa all summer.

As Mr. Kenny, Bothwell, was about to enter his come one night some person approached him from the rear, grabbed him around the shoulders, and robbed him of his pocket book containing about $50.

James Bain, the 12-year-old son of Neil K. Bain, a well known resident of East Toronto, was attacked by a vicious bulldog and terribly bitten. It was feared at first the result would be fatal, but a later report is more favorable.

In a collision Saturday afternoon between a passenger and freight train on the Grand Trunk Railway at Lorneville Junction, near Belleville, Roadmaster Stewart was instantly killed, and a woman, name unknown, seriously injured. A brakeman's carelessness caused the wreck.

Near Newbury, a farmer, as punishment for some offence committed by his adopted son, dug a hole and covered him up. After the lapse of a few seconds the farmer, thinking the lad had been sufficiently punished, disinterred him, to find him almost dead from suffocation and fright. The matter consoled the ears of his neighbors, a number of them visited the farmer's house one night and tarred and feathered him.

Fred King, Orangeville, has in his possession a document of rare antiquity in the shape of a deed made for the transfer of mill property in the county of Gloucester, England, in the reign of Queen Anne. The deed which is written on parchment, and is in a remarkable state of preservation, is dated the 20th day of September, 1709—the eighth year of the reign of Queen Anne. The property was then purchased by Mr. King's great grandfather and is still retained by the family.

Two registered letters, containing $150, sent from New York to the locked-out tailors at Windsor three weeks ago, have not reached their destination, and the Washington authorities have been asked to institute an investigation. Most of the trade done by the merchant tailors is American, and the locked-out tailors threaten to bring matters to a crisis by standing on the docks at Detroit, across the river, and point out to customs officials persons entering Detroit in Windsor-made clothing.

The Toronto police are working on a sensational case. Sadie Lavelle lived with her mother in Teranley street. She was handsome and but 18. She went to the Island with Ida Simmons, a 16-year-old girl of London. They met two respectable-looking young men, brothers, who took took them to a private boat house in the city and ruined the Lavelle girl, who, when she found the other girl was of loose character, was more easily led away. Later in the week she went to the boat house and met her betrayer and asked him to marry her. He refused. Returning she took sick on the street, said she was drugged, and died. She was buried. The doctors gave a certificate for typhoid fever.

St. Catharines dispatch: Frank Risch and his brother, A. Risch, both of Toronto, were at St. George's this afternoon awaiting the arrival of the former's bride-elect, when the police arrived and arrested them on a charge of abduction. The bride-to-be was Lulu Rolls, a handsome young lady of some sixteen or seventeen summers, who is reported to be heiress to some $25,000. The arrest was caused by a firm of lawyers of whom Miss Rolls is ward, and who objected to the match. The wedding was to be a secret one, and had the officers been a few minutes later, the ceremony would have been over. Miss Rolls has been attending a boarding school in Toronto, and it was there that she became acquainted with Risch. She and her relatives are all known and highly respected residents of St. Catharines.

A curious tale comes from Pickanock, Que., which will shortly come out in the courts, and is vouched for as perfectly true. A Simple Simon having a farm of very poor land, which he wanted to sell, found he could get no price for it. He proceeded to get some United States gold pieces, which he beat and broke up, and with which he salted the sand in one of his meadows. This salted sand he sampled and took to the parish priest, who is said to be what a Scotchman would call "careful of this world's gear." After inspection the priest bought the farm at gold mine prices. A few days ago he called on the vender, and told him he had come about the gold mine. The man denied having sold the priest a gold mine, but had sold his reverence a farm. Now the matter is coming before the assizes at Aylmer.

"Why, now I cannot get enough to eat," says one lady who formerly had no appetite, but took Hood's Sarsaparilla.

NANAIMO MINERS.

Meeting on Saturday Discusses the Strike Difficulty.

NANAIMO, Sept. 6.—A meeting of miners opposed to the continuance of assessments for the benefit of the Wellington strikers was held on the Green yesterday afternoon. Mr. Richard Yates took the chair, and explained that the meeting was held for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed last Saturday, and trying to arrange the existing differences.

Mr. J. Bell stated that at a meeting held at the Union last Monday night an endeavor was made to bring about a reconciliation, but instead the meeting broke up in disorder. They went down to Mr. Robins to ask him for the loan of the "Green." They did not see him, but Mr. Tagart sent him a note, and Mr. Robins, in replying, requested to see them. They went to his house and stopped there a considerable time discussing the matter. He said he was anxious to have them come to a settlement. He was sorry the names had been put up at the pit head, which he assured them was an oversight. He had never intended to discharge the men. The trouble, he said, was due to the two factions of the union.

G. Ramsey was very glad to see there was a chance of a reconciliation. He was informed there was a desire of some of the union men in good standing that a larger number should be added to the present committee to confer with a like number from the lodge tonight and they could then bring it up at the meeting of the lodge on Monday night.

The chairman impressed upon the men the necessity of keeping cool and collected and urged them not to take any rash steps to try and overthrow the union. He felt sure there were none present but what intended to join the union as soon as the present question was settled.

C. Carmichael—Everyone here intends to stay by the union. We only want the assessment dropped, and I think every body here is of that opinion.

The following committee was appointed to act in conjunction with the four already appointed: R. Carr, G. Burt, W. Hall, R. Pyper, W. Roos, W. Pryde, F. Bramley and R. Bates.

J. Storey, President of Union Branch No. 1, spoke as a representative of the other faction. He said: I dont know that anything has been done to amend matters, but the committees will meet this evening for the purpose of coming to an understanding, and the final meeting of the committees will take place after the lodge meets on Monday night, as they cannot obtain the official sanction of the order until the regular meeting takes place, and no doubt they will endeavor to bring about the best results that can possibly be arrived at.

W. Hall desired to see the committees meet that evening, as it would be the means of giving them an idea of what the different feelings were.

J. Storey would like to see the meeting take place that evening, as there might be something suggested that would enable the committee to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion. They would then get a better idea of what was required. There would certainly have to be concessions on both sides that would possibly prove beneficial to them all.

W. Roos endorsed the remarks of the last speaker.

G. Burt said: When the committee from the lodge are ready to meet us we are ready to meet them. I would rather the committee decided to call a mass meeting and ascertain the feeling of the men by a secret ballot. It is most probable that when the committees meet there will be hard words uttered on both sides, which may lead to a fight.

W. Roos thought it possible that the committee would decide upon calling a mass meeting. As they were the first to pull out of the Union they should be the first to join it again.

James Wallace and G. Ramsay both spoke in favor of the committees meeting that evening.

J. Lister moved that the committees meet this evening.

G. Burt denounced the idea of the committees meeting until after the meeting of the lodge on Monday night. He claimed the other faction had already done them injury enough without adding insult to injury.

J. Storey denied that he for one had ever any such intention and repudiated the remarks of the last speaker.

G. Burt stated that his remarks were not intended for Mr. Storey.

C. Carmichael understood that Mr. Burt was opposed to waiting on the street all hours of the night.

J. Storey explained that arrangements had been made for the committees to meet between six and seven o'clock this evening. G. Ramsay endorsed the last speaker's words.

The motion was put and carried.

A discussion then took place as to the necessity of calling a mass meeting, but it was eventually left in the hands of the committee, with power to act.

H. Carr claimed that fair overtures had been advanced by the other faction, and if they were still held out it was only fair and proper to accept them.

G. Ramsey did not like to see a bitter feeling prevailing between the two factions, and thought all such feelingtending to cut each other should be avoided and a better feeling would follow.

Carmichael and Carr were both of the opinion that if the Union could show by statistics that the strike had done any good, all the men here present would support them, but if, on the other hand, it can be shown they have only done harm, then they should give way.

S. Wallace said it was an illustration of a general leading his men to battle and not knowing how to take them out again, and that is the position Tully Boyce is in to-day.

The meeting then adjourned.

MAINLAND INTELLIGENCE.

New Brick Works—Kamloops Scenery—The Wheat Outlook in Spallumcheen.

From the Steveston Enterprise.]

Martin Nelson's fish curing establishment is only one of many which ought to be located here and which would be if they received proper encouragement. Fish curing is just as important as fish canning in proportion to the amount of business transacted. The difficulty, however, is that while 350 licenses are parceled out among the Fraser River canneries, only a fisherman's license is accorded Mr. Nelson, and for the great bulk of his fish he must depend upon such contracts as he can make with the fishermen. Why should he not be allowed licenses to enable him to do his own catching as well as the canneries? Serve them all alike would be the fair thing. As, however, the canneries are compelled to depend in part upon the fishermen, of course the curing establishment should be required to do the same thing, that all should be protected as much as possible.

Mr. Foxley, of the brick works on the New Westminster road, between Vancouver and that city, was down here Tuesday to examine the clay out of which the fine brick on exhibition here and at Vancouver were manufactured. The clay he found in abundance, and he was very favorably impressed with the magnificent opening here for the establishment of brick, terra cotta and tile works. The new company which has just been formed will make this, next to the natural gas works, its most important industry.

From the Kamloops Sentinel.]

J. D. Ross is proposing to turn his tannery business into a joint stock company with a capital of $30,000. He has had an experience of about a year, and has proved that the tanning industry can be successfully prosecuted at this point. The important thing is bark, which can be got in unlimited quantity. The hides can be secured at fair prices. He will in a short time issue a prospectus, which will make such a favorable showing of profits that there is little doubt he will be able to enlist the support of capitalists to the enterprise. He proposes to turn out sole leather entirely on which cheap labor and branded hides can be used to good advantage.

The Shamrock, owned by E. C. Davison, and the Mayflower, by Geo. Hayes, were matched last Saturday evening for a race on the track at Kamloops, at $250 a side. The money is up and in the hands of Herb. Smith, as stakeholder. The race will be run on Saturday, four weeks from to-day, which will be October 3rd.

rom the Vernon News.]

Work was commenced on Saturday on the excavations for the brick-veneer block which Mr. Megaw is about to erect at the corner of Mission street and Barnard avenue. It will be a two-storey building, 48 feet square, containing three stores on the ground floor, two of which will front on Mission street and Barnard avenue respectively, and the third on both. The one on Mission street will be a saddle and harness shop, the corner one a grocery and provision store, while that on Barnard avenue will be used as a general store. The upper storey will be used as a tailor's and millinery establishment. The entire structure will be put up by day work. Mr. Megaw has purchased that part of the gore on Barnard avenue, owned by Mr. Gilmore, which cut him off from that street, on which he now owns 100 feet frontage. The building he is erecting will be a credit to the town.

The rails are now laid along the S. & O. as far as T. Clinton's ranch, eight miles from town. A warehouse is being erected on the "Is.and," which has been definitely decided upon as the station site for the Spallumcheen valley. The townsite will be called "Armstrong," a siding having already been placed there. The work of grading is almost completed at the arm of the lake, and in less than a week the entire grade of the S. & O. will be completed. Ballasting is being pushed forward energetically.

The price to be paid for wheat this season by the Columbia Milling Co., Enderby, will be: Spring wheat, $25; fall wheat, $24 per ton. This increased price can to a great extent be attributed to combination on the part of wheat growers and the plain language used at the recent meeting of the agricultural society. A far larger quantity of fall than of spring wheat is grown in this district, but the latter makes the best flour. Hitherto the same price has been paid for both varieties.

Last Thursday young George Keefer, while testing the explosive properties of gunpowder on an old stump on his father's ranch up Coldstream valley, found that powder is a dangerous plaything. The explosion seriously injured his face, causing temporary blindness from which he is only now recovering. He was at once brought to town by his brother for medical treatment.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Wisdom's Violet Cream

Slavery in Liberia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—G. B. Parks, a mulatto belonging to Atlanta, Ga., with his family of seven children arrived today. He is an intelligent man, a carpenter by trade, and tells an interesting story of the condition of affairs in Liberia, Africa. On May 22 he was lured by the promises of the society for the promotion of colonization in Liberia to go to that country, he sailed to that place, and on landing at Morasia, he found the country in a most debauched condition. American negroes who had already emigrated there had assumed most tyrannical rule over the natives. No part of the ground was under cultivation. Parks has been a slave in the South, but he says the condition of slavery in Liberia is worse than in the South before the war. Parks, because he would not deal in human flesh, was ostracized by negroes from America. After spending twenty-one days he concluded to return.

THE LIEUT.-GOVERNORSHIP.

J. A. Mara, M.P. for Yale, is an applicant for the Lieut.-Governorship of British Columbia. Lieut.-Governor Nelson's term will expire in March next. Mr. Dewdney's name has been frequently mentioned in connection with the position, and had Sir John lived it is very likely that Dewdney would receive the appointment. Mara is understood to be the favorite with the British Columbia representatives, but it remains to be seen if their influence at Ottawa is as potent as the unseen hand that has pushed Dewdney ahead of more deserving men. The report that Col. Prior was looking for the position is denied by his friends. The Col. advocates the claims of Mr. Mara.

THE TRAMWAY STRIKE.

A return to the nine-hour schdule on the part of the Electric Tramway Company is a commendable action. At the same time it is a justification of the strikers, some of whom, it is to be feared, will suffer a personal sacrifice for the triumphant establishment of a principle. Public opinion has been most emphatically with the men in the dispute between them and the company, and it will be further unmistakably expressed in condemnation of anything that looks like revenge on the part of the latter. Mr. Higgins and the directors of the company have found, if nothing else, that it is poor policy to compel their men to work more than nine hours a day for seven days in the week, a fact which they should have realized before they made the objectionable change.

POLITICAL MORALITY.

The Mail quotes the Boston Herald as saying "that if a scandal involving leading members of a party, similar to that which has just occurred in Canada, were to take place in the United States, it would seriously damage the future of the political organization that was in any degree responsible for it. There are in different countries different ethical codes, and proceedings permissible in one place are looked upon in another as meriting the severest condemnation. Probably the English code of official honesty is superior to our own; but we should say, as the conclusion to be drawn from recent revelations, that the ethical standard in Canada was decidedly below that of the United States, so far as concerns public transactions." But observes the Mail, "before drawing this conclusion our contemporary should wait to see what the action of Parliament will be in the matter, and should that not be satisfactory, what the people of this country will do about it. Whatever the politicians may do or say, public opinion in at least the greater portion of Canada is shocked at the Ottawa revelations, and will, we hope, assert itself." And we may add that, however, "shocked the greater portion of Canada is her politicians apparently are not in that frame of mind. As yet, none but understrappers have been declared guilty of boodling by Canadian Tory politicians and by the Canadian Tory press. Whatever may be the moral tone of the people of Canada neither Tory politicans nor Tory journalists are troubled with an excess of it.

SUGAR.

The Chicago Herald puts the Hon. L. S. Thurston down as having said that Hawaii was ripe for annexation. It was the McKinley bill that did it. The native and foreign population of the Island, now that it costs two cents a pound duty to get Hawaiian sugar into the American market, have agreed that annexation is the thing. It might be asked why it is that McKinleyism has the effect of producing annexationists while the N. P. repels population? The reason is, we suppose, that the United States besides being a nation of sixty odd millions, is pre-eminently a nation of consumers of everything in general and of sugar in particular. The Germans are great sugar producers, but they raise it to sell, not to eat. The American must have his sugar. He not only takes it with his tea, coffee, griddle cakes and whisky, but he actually sweetens his beans. In the logging camps syrup is mixed with an equal quantity of bacon grease and eaten with bread as a substitute for butter, and an excellent substitute it makes, too. In no country in the world does sugar enter so largely into cookery as in the United States, have, perhaps, in Canada. No miner's outfit is complete without sugar. The prospector no more thinks of starting out on a summer's prospecting tour without sugar than without his flour, bacon and beans. Were the people of the United States less fond of sugar the reciprocity clause in the McKinley bill would scarcely have found the favor it has with sugar producing countries.

PAT EGAN AND THE DEMOCRACY

The San Francisco Examiner is quite willing to believe that Mr. Egan has earned the ill will of the new rulers of Chili, but it reminds them at the same time that the "extinction" of the gentleman would cost them more than he is worth. The Examiner does not like Egan for the reason that he is a favorite of Blaine's. Egan was a prominent member of that ardent Blaine organization, the Clan-na-Gael; and had Burchard let Rome, Rum and Rebellion alone, Blaine instead of Cleveland would have been elected president. But that famous bit of alliteration was too much for the Irish cohorts which had been mustered by Egan & Co. in Blaine's interest. Blaine was beaten in York State by some twelve or thirteen hundred votes. Nevertheless, since most Irish are Democrats, the Examiner ought to be careful how it belabors Mr. Egan. Irish blood is thicker than water. They are almost sure to resent the Examiner's dubious estimate of the first Irishman to represent the United States abroad. The Democracy has nothing to gain by abusing Egan. A very small split in the New York Irish vote and it will be a very cold day for Cleveland. The Chicago Herald (Democrat) also jumps on the unfortunate Egan: "In filling consulships and missions," says the Herald, "both Blaine and Harrison have made many poor selections, but Pat Egan's is undoubtedly the worst." If the Herald keeps on at this rate it need not count on anything short of the deadly antagonism of the Clan-na-Gael at the next presidential election.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. John Culleston, a Chicago porter, affords a shining instance of what there is in tips for some people. He has just retired with $100,000, every cent obtained in this way.

Messrs. Corbould, Earle and Barnard, forming one-half of the representation of the Province at Ottawa, have returned from the capital. They will not go back again—this session.

The Toronto World has come to the conclusion that the exodus from Canada "is principally made up of Reformers." If this is the case, how does the World account for the increased Reform vote at the last general election? At that time the parties were so nearly equal that a few scores of Reform votes would have turned the scale and defeated the Government. Does the World wish it to be understood that the great exodus of Reform voters was more than offset by the Conservatives who changed over to the Reform side?

"Why has this Dominion not advanced more in population than it has done?" asks the Toronto Empire. The Empire proceeds to answer the question by alleging that it was "the competition of the United States in the eyes of the world, and the blackening of the fair name and repute of Canada before the nations by the persistent efforts of some portions of its political leaders and would-be rulers." In penning this statement did not the Empire speak before it thought? Does the Empire really mean that the Liberal "figuring down" of Canada has exerted a wider influence for evil than the Conservative "figuring up?" The Empire in its frantic efforts to blame somebody and anybody but its political friends for Canada's slow growth, forgets itself and says things that have the properties of a boomerang. But then the whole Tory argument is a boomerang.

The New York Customs authorities the other day sold two dresses of Mrs. William Astor's upon which she had declined to pay the duty and penalty for undervaluation. The dresses were invoiced at 1000 francs, but the Customs authorities raised the price to 3500 francs, equal to $694.80. The duties and penalty amounted to $416.88. The auctioneer, in putting up the first lot, a green silk, announced that it was worth $10,000 and that Postmaster-General Wanamaker wanted it. The dress was knocked down to a dry goods store proprietor for $660. The other was purchased by a concert hall man, price $770. Asked "what he was going to do with it," he replied, "that one of his singers, Kitty Joyce, would wear it." A wax figure of Mrs. Astor, adorned by the green silk robe purchased by the dry goods man, will shortly appear in his show window. Had Mrs. Astor known that her Parisian dresses were to be used for advertising purposes the chances are she would not have allowed them to be sold in default of payment of duty in a sum so inconsequential, to her, as four-hundred and odd dollars.

BACK TO NINE HOURS.

The Old Time Schedule Re-adopted by the Tramway Co.

The street cars are running somewhat more regularly to day, a number of the men having gone back to work. There are still a lot of those who stood for the principle out of employment, and though the object they fought for has been attained they, personally, are losers. That the men won the fight is evidenced by the fact that the company has returned to the old schedule of eighteen hours a day, with two shifts of two men each, thus making nine hours run for each shift. The men regard this as a victory, and have laid down their uns.

THE PULPIT SPEAKS.

In the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church last evening, there was an unusually large congregation present, and the choir, under the leadership of Mr. Fenwick, rendered a very excellent service. The anthem was Mendelssohn's "The heavens and earth display the grandeur of the Lord," the solo being tastefully rendered by Miss Hutcheson.

Rev. Mr. McLeod took for his text the words: "Master; speak to my brother that he divide the inheritance with me." From these words the preacher showed that even in the Master's day, as now, the people made use of religion and of the Saviour to increase their worldly gains. He also showed that increased wealth and power meant increased covetousness and penuriousness, and in this connection he would instance a local company who, in the days when the success of their undertaking was doubtful, treated their employes fairly, both in the matter of working hours and remuneration. But now that success is assured, and large profits are being made, the employes were made to work 12 hours a day for seven days in the week. Mr. McLeod showed the danger of this and asserted that if the management of that company did not acknowledge any responsibility to their fellow men for this act, an account would surely have to be rendered to a higher authority.

The collection was taken up in aid of the Jubilee hospital, and was a very liberal one.

MR. DAVIE REPLIES.

TO THE EDITOR:—Your correspondent, "Cleric," who, from the signature, would appear to be a clergyman of some religious denomination, but from the tone of his communication would seem to be, not one of those who eschew deceit, malice, and all uncharitableness, should study the commandment which he has, no doubt, heard, or read, perhaps frequently, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

If "Cleric" was a man who observed the commandment he would not have villified me for having, as he says, insisted upon a day of 12 hours labor for the tramway men, in face of the fact that at at the interview with the men (the report of which he must have read, else he is guilty of uttering slanders without informing himself), I scouted the idea of such hours; neither, as a man, professing an abhorence of "ungodly, wicked, and un-Christian" acts, would he endeavor, by circulating falsehoods, to inflame the public mind against the tramway officers, in their endeavor to arrive at a schedule of hours, just to employer and employee alike.

So far from this being "peculiarly a matter for the religious bodies to take up," I venture to think that these bodies will recognize the desirability of promoting peace and harmony amongst mankind, rather than of of sowing dissension and strife, as your correspondent "Cleric" has unworthily tried to do.

THEODORE DAVIE.

THE MATTER OF HOURS.

TO THE EDITOR:—It is to be presumed that your issue of Friday contained in the main a correct report of the meeting between the committee representing the men and the directors of the company. According to that report, Mr. Marshall opened the discussion on the part of the men by asking the very simple question, "whether three hours had been added to the men's time by the board's consent?" Throughout the whole discussion, this question was never answered. Later on Mr. Director Davie stated that "he certainly would not think of asking the men to work 12 hours a day," entirely ignoring the fact that whether he would think of it or not, by the action of the president the men were compelled to work 12 hours a day. Surely had Mr. Davie been consistent, he would have supported the men in refusing to do what according to his own statement he personally would not think of asking them to do. Mr. Higgins' side of the story is so illogical as scarcely to require any remark; for him, after his action, to attempt to pose as a philanthropist is too absurd. He states that "so long as he was head of the company he would regret what had occurred." But what is it he regrets? Does he regret having been hard on the strikers (who he himself acknowledges are a fine and honorable body of men)? Surely if this had been the case he would have confessed his error and welcomed them back with open arms. But it is not so. Mr. Higgins said that "any application from the strikers to be taken back on the cars would be considered." Evidently what Mr. Higgins regrets is, that the men have had the pluck to resist his tyranny, and no doubt if he continues in power he will make some of them suffer for it by "considering their applications in the negative." Dr Jones (chairman) thought "the men had been too hasty." Is it not time for men to "be hasty" when they find themselves compelled to work 12 hours a day for $45 a month? Would Dr. Jones or Mr. Davie or Mr. Higgins admire such terms of life? It is right that the struggle should be seen in its true light. Nine hours a day is long enough to work for a pittance which only enables a man to live. Rich companies have no right to grind down their hands simply because the condition of the labor market enables them to do so. Let them put on more hands and thereby employ some of the 50 applicants who applied for the strikers' places. It does not matter how the trouble began, what is of importance is that it should be ended by giving the men

JUSTICE.

Police Court Notes.

Four white men and one Indian were in the box this morning to answer to the charge of being drunk. All were fined the orthodox fine of $5.

Graham Smith was charged with using threatening language to Mr. McKenzie Munro. The case was remanded till to-morrow, the prisoner being allowed out on bail in the sum of $000.

Cho Kow, for using abusive language was fined $5 and $2 costs.

J. Sako, a Japanese, was charged with having stolen a watch and chain from Arthur Washburn. The prosecutor created some little amusement by his evidence, which was given in very broken English. Knew the prisoner and had asked him to sleep on the schooner Borealis with him. He owned the Borealis. On Thursday night prisoner slept with him on the boat. Next morning found watch, chain and schooner's boat gone. Identified the watch produced in court. Suspected the prisoner and went and told the police. Morris Marks identified the watch as one Washburn had purchased from him. Sergt. Hawton testified to having arrested the prisoner, and to seeing Officer Redgrave take the watch from the prisoner. Officer Redgrave said he had helped Sergt. Hawton to search the prisoner and he found the watch and chain. Remanded till to-morrow.

The Messenger System.

Mr. W. T. Stewart, who has charge of the work of putting in the bells and stringing the wires for the B. C. District Telegraph and Messenger Service, reports work progressing splendidly. Three circuits are ready, and in a few days the bells will be put in. The company have located their office in the Turner block, Douglas street. Mr. Stewart goes to Vancouver in about two weeks to start the system in that city, which will be in working order by that time.

If Not, Why Not?

The Vancouver city band has just come out in a new uniform that is said to look very well. The Nanaimo and New Westminster bands have similiary decorated themselves in the last few months and now there are only the capital city born blowers who seem to think that slouch hats and working clothes are good enough to turn out in. It is "a give away" on the city for our bandsmen to leave home in the unharmonious garb that they generally wear.

The Wolf Fish.

The curator of the Provincial Museum, Mr. J. Fannin, has received a not very handsome, though interesting present from Mr. J. L. Cotton, of Nanaimo. It is a fish known as the "wolf fish," but its technical name is anarrichihys ocellatus. It is not very common now, although it is sometimes found. It sometimes attains a length and weight of 8 feet and 30 pounds, but the average is five to six feet. The one in question is five feet long and is about 20 pounds weight. Mr. Fannin will preserve it for exhibition.

The Kootenay Country's Wealth.

The Provincial Museum was visited by an unusually large number of people during the month of August. Mr. Fannen is devoting a part of his newly acquired space to the mineral exhibit, which is growing larger and more interesting every month. There will be one fitted room given up to the collection, which is shortly to receive a large addition from Mr. J. M. Keilie, M.P.P. That gentleman has collected and presented to the museum 3000 pounds of minerals, representing the mineral wealth of the Kootenay country.

In Colonization Interests.

Mr. H. Seton-Karr, M.P. for England, is in Victoria on an important business mission namely, to consider the opportunities offered by this province to intending settlers. In this connection Mr. Karr had an interview this morning with Hon. Mr. Robson, but he will devote the time of his stay to making personal observation and enquiry on the matter of his mission. Mr. Karr is brother of Lieutenant Seton-Karr, Alaska explorer, and is a finely built man, of pleasant manners. He is an ardent hunter, and can talk familiarly on all sorts of game and sport. Mr. Fannen, curator of the museum, received a visit from him this morning, when there were two of a kind together.

Opening up in Business.

Mr. Samuel Reid, who has been a familiar and popular figure in the Golden Rule clothing store for over six years past, has opened a handsome place of business for himself at 122 Government street, one of the best stands in the city, and a position which, under the management of a man of Mr. Reid's energy and experience, can be made a still better post. Mr. Reid has commenced well; with everything in season, both in his well-assorted stock and his handsome and modern store. He has everything which one expects to find in a gent's furnishing store, from an ordinary shirt collar stud to a Saratoga trunk; and the whole is so arranged that it can be readily seen. The matter of price has not been forgotten; Mr. Reid appreciates the good old-fashioned business maxim of "small profits and quick returns."

YOUNG & BARTLETT.

Bound for the Orient

The steamer Zambesi, Captain Lee, of the Upton line, arrived from Departure Bay this morning and is preparing to leave for the Orient. She has on board 1000 tons of flour, 80,000 feet of lumber and other merchandise for different Oriental points. She has one saloon passenger, Mr. Scott, and about 30 Japs and Chinese. It is expected that both the cargo and passenger list will be increased before she sails.

A Desirable Settler.

Mr. Hedley Chapman, of Maple Croft, near Bradford-on-Avon, England, is in Victoria and is the guest of his brother, Mr. Howard Chapman. Mr. Chapman is noted for his great success in raising St. Bernard dogs, of which he has made a study to the extent of a hobby. He sold one for as much as £1500, and has an offer for £2000 for another. He likes Victoria very much, and is likely to settle here. As Mr. Chapman is a gentleman of considerable knowledge and experience, his presence and capital here would be mutually beneficial.

Schooner Sapphire's Gods.

There is a superstition among the Indians that an individual god watches over the schooners in which the Siwashes ship as sealers. This belief, however is varied in the case of the schooner Sapphire, over whose destiny there is supposed to preside no less than five gods. Why this is so, is explained by Captain Cox, who says that the boat has been in some awfully tight places, and has somehow miraculously pulled through. An incident occurred Saturday which has more than ever confirmed the Indian belief. She was ready to take her Indian hunters home to the west coast. Most of them were making purchases to take home, and one of them was marketing in a grocery store on Johnson street. He had a cash box containing $670 in gold, which he left on the counter. While he was engaged in marketing a brother Indian rushed to the store with the information that the schooner was leaving. There was an immediate stampede in which the cash box was left behind. The Sapphire had reached Race Rocks before the box was missed, and Captain Cox enabled the Indian to return On arrival at the store there was halo cash box, but the storekeeper said a klootchman had claimed it. A policeman was sought and a search instituted, with the result that the box was found minus not a cent. Now the Indians believe implicitly in the Sapphire's gods.

Back From Behring Sea.

Schooner Ariel, Captain Gould, arrived in port yesterday morning after the shortest cruise of the sealing fleet for this season. The Ariel has had a trying time of it this year; she had not been out more than three or four days when she was driven on the rocks and wrecked. Fortunately she was not a total wreck, but the time lost in her having to come back for repairs and to get a new crew were serious items at a time when she should have been among the seals on the coast. It was about the middle of May when she was able to leave Victoria with her new crew, nearly four months after all the other schooners had left. She caught no seals on the coast, but made for the sea, which she reached on the 31st July. There were then no cutters around with the proclamation, so the acquaintance of the seals was at once sought, with the result that the Ariel ran up her catch to 1082 before the Rush hove in sight on the 16th of August. The weather and the distance the schooner had got into the sea prevented her getting out before the 20th. Captain Gould reports having picked up a canoe with two Indians in Behring sea. They were from the schooner Winnifred. He also came across a boat's crew of the San Francisco whaler Jane Grey. There were the first mate and five men in the boat. They had been out only one night, but were not well provisioned and could not risk being out any longer. Captain Gould took them aboard and ran in sight of St. Paul's island when they were enabled to reach shore. This was a risky piece of kindness, but it was happily attended with no serious consequences. The health of the crew during the voyage has been excellent, and the old Ariel has acted splendidly.

Provident Savings.

There is nothing so greatly conducive to promote habits of thrift and economy, as the owning of the house in which you live. The man who owns a home of his own is a component part of the prosperity of the country. By discreet saving, the disuse of some trifling expenditure, you can buy from the Mount Tolmie Home Building Association a property that may be the foundation of your fortune.

You can not go wrong. A blind man can buy a lot or home in Mount Tolmie Park without the risk of making a bad investment, for the poorest lot in the tract can be bought on the most liberal terms ever offered, and is sold on a proposition that is bound to make every lot valuable.

Of the 200 houses to be built in this section, the prices of same range from $700 to $1700, six years being allowed in which to pay for them.

Those not wanting houses can buy a lot valued at $300, by paying $25 cash and 55 monthly payments of $5 per month.

MANAGER BAKER HAPPY.

HIS BOYS SUCCEED IN BEATING THE SEATTLE MAROONS.

The Seattle Amateurs are no Match for the new Blood Which Composes the Amities—The Victoria Boys Hold Their Own at Tacoma.

BASEBALL.

The international baseball match played at the Caledonia Park on Saturday afternoon was a good exhibition of America's national game. It was a gentlemanly game too, the Maroons of Seattle being as nice a lot of fellows as ever visited the city. They had several chances to grumble at the close decisions of the umpire, Dr. A. R. Baker, which, however, were correct although close. Lenfesty, who held down the pitcher's box for the Amities, pitched a splendid game, striking out ten men and only allowing the visitors to get two hits off of him. Hannan, behind the bat, was out of practice. He could not get the ball down to second, thus allowing the Marcons to steal bases on him; but they did not get any further than third with the exception of once, their only run. If Hannan had been in practice, or Huxtable had been in his place and played his usual game, the Maroons would have been shut out. The bases were held well by Scott, Widdowson and Robinson, and Hayes took good care of short stop, and nothing got past Gouge, Askew and Hewlett, the fielders. The latter caught a fly to left and assisted in a double play, saving the side from defeat. The Amities' three runs in the third inning were made on errors of the visiting fielders. There were two men on bases, Lenfesty and Hayes, when Robinson knocked a fly to centre, which was fumbled and the three scored. The two runs in the eight were made on Gouge's three bagger. There were two men on bases, Askew and Robinson, when Gouge sent the ball to right's corner. The boy came in, but Gouge was left on third.

The Maroons played a good game from start to finish, but could only score once. They would get two men on bases, when Lenfesty would straighten up and retire the side by striking out just as many men as he wanted to. Three times he struck out two men when there were two men on bases and one out. Vaugh scored the one run for Seattle. Warner, the catcher, is a good one, and Coffman throws the ball well to him. The Maroons have got splendid fielders in Fowler, Parks and Bennett.

THE GUN.

TACOMA AND VICTORIA.

The shooting match between the teams of the Tacoma Rifle, Rod and Gun club and the Union club of Victoria, for $100 a side, took place yesterday afternoon at the Tacoma club's range south of the city, and resulted in a victory for the local marksmen. There was quite a crowd of sportsmen and rifle shooting enthusiasts on the grounds, and cheered the victorious shooters. The teams were composed as follows: Tacoma—Ray Palmer, T. A. Bringham, D. Smith, F. Armstrong, H. F. Denham, W. R. Dodge, E. E. Ellis and Al. Eberly, and the Victorians were F. S. McClure, B. H. Johns, N. H. Adams, George Vaughan, J. C. McClure, C. Todd, N. H. Short and C. W. Minor.

The shooting began at half past twelve o'clock. There were twenty-five birds for each man and the Tacomas succeeded in hitting 167, while the visitors scored 153. The Victoria boys made themselves great favorites from the time they entered the ground, through their gentlemanly behavior throughout the match. This is their first match and they are to be complimented on their excellent scores, especially on strange grounds and over strange traps. A return match will be shot at Victoria about the end of this month. After the match some sweepstake shooting was indulged in and the bang, bang of the hammerless gun could be heard until sundown. After the match the team and their friends visited the rooms of the Commercial club, where a splendid supper awaited them.

The following is the result of the shooting.

THE RING.

A PLUCKY CANADIAN BANTAM.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The Sun says: George Wright, the Canadian bantam, added another victory to his long list on Saturday night, when he knocked out Billy Gilfoyle, a pupil of George Reynolds, the well-known lightweight of this city. Wright has the distinction of having defeated Geo. Dixon, though he got the decision on a foul, three years ago. He and Gilfoyle met about midnight in a building near Jamaica, having scaled six hours before at 112 pounds. They fought for a purse of $100, and 20 New Yorkers saw the small gloves used. Wright was seconded by Paddy and Dave McCarthy, and Geo. Reynolds and a friend looked after Gilfoyle. Dan Trusty and Jack Dougherty held the watches, and Jimmy Cabe, formerly president of the Hornbacker Athletic Club was referee. For a couple of rounds it was a good exhibition, as both men showed unusual cleverness. In the third, however, Wright got in several hard blows, one of which on the neck sent Gilfoyle flying through the ropes. After that the New Yorker wasn't in it. Wright was thirsting for him, and in the fifth round he landed a right hand swing on Gilfoyle's jaw that knocked him off his pins and 15 seconds elapsed before Reynolds' boy could struggle to his feet thoroughly dazed and beaten. After the fight there was talk of matching Wright against Alf. Levy, the English boy, whose arrival was noted in the Sun last Saturday.

THE OAR.

Dutch and Stephenson, the Australian oarsmen, who came to America to meet the crack oarsmen of this continent, arrived in the city on Saturday evening by the steamer Walla Walla. They have taken up their quarters at Jones' boat house and will train on the harbor course until Sunday, in preparation for the regatta at Westminster on the 22nd. They will enter the single scull championship race, with O'Connor and Hanlan and other professionals. Dutch is about 25 years of age and weighs about 165 pounds. His companion is an older but a lighter man. After their race at Westminster they will return to Victoria, then to other cities where fall regattas are to be held. Both men have splendid shells.

Dutch will row Peterson, who recently beat McLean, over the Alameda course, San Francisco, in October, for $1000 a side. Peterson is a bigger man than Dutch, weighing 180 pounds.

Peterson will not come up for the Westminster regatta, as his shell will not be ready in time.

TURF.

The match race between Ito and Rifton has been declared off.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

A regular omnibus line will be established in the course of a week, which will connect with the electric cars at the Jubilee Hospital.

THE CORNCRIB OF EGYPT.

NO ADMITTANCE TO GOD'S BOUNTY UNLESS CHRIST GO WITH YOU.

The Famine That Was Sore in All Lands—The Condition Imposed That Benjamin Should Go Into Egypt with His Brethren—Benjamin a Type of Christ.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 30.—The cabled reports of meager harvests in Europe, and the memory of the vast crops of ripening grain which Dr. Talmage saw during his recent tour in the west, have combined to turn his thoughts back to that patriarchal time when all the world sent to Egypt to buy corn and to suggest a Gospel lesson. His text is Genesis xliii, 3, "Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you."

This summer, having crossed eighteen of the United States—north, south, east and west—I have to report the mightiest harvests that this country or any other country ever reaped. If the grain gamblers do not somehow wreck these harvests we are about to enter upon the grandest scene of prosperity that America has ever witnessed. But while this is so in our own country, on the other side of the Atlantic there are nations threatened with famine, and the most dismal cry that is ever heard will, I fear, be uttered—the cry for bread.

I pray God that the contrast between our prosperity and their want may not be as sharp as in the lands referred to by my text. There was nothing to eat. Plenty of corn in Egypt, but ghastly famine in Canaan. The cattle moaning in the stall. Men, women and children awfully white with hunger. Not the failing of one crop for one summer, but the failing of all the crops for seven years. A nation dying for lack of that which is so common on your table and so little appreciated; the product of harvest field and grist mill and oven; the price of sweat and anxiety and struggle—bread! Jacob the father has the last report from the flour bin, and he finds that everything is out, and he says to his sons, "Boys, hook up the wagons and start for Egypt and get us something to eat."

The fact was there was a great corncrib in Egypt. The people of Egypt have been largely taxed in all ages, at the present time paying between 70 and 80 per cent. of their products to the government. No wonder in that time they had a large corncrib, and it was full. To that crib they came from the regions round about—those who were famished—some paying for corn in money; when the money was exhausted, paying for the corn in sheep and cattle and horses and camels, and when they were exhausted, then selling their own bodies and their families into slavery.

THE SORROW OF JACOB.

The morning for starting out on the crusade for bread has arrived. Jacob gets his family up very early. But before the elder sons start, they say something that makes him tremble with emotion from head to foot and burst into tears. The fact was that these elder sons had once before been in Egypt to get corn, and they had been treated somewhat roughly, the lord of the corncrib supplying them with corn, but saying at the close of the interview, "Now, you need not come back here for any more corn, unless you bring something better than money—even your younger brother Benjamin."

Ah! Benjamin—that very name was suggestive of all tenderness. The mother had died at the birth of that son—a spirit coming and another spirit going—and the very thought of parting with Benjamin must have been a heart break. The keeper of this corncrib, nevertheless, says to these elder sons, "There is no need of your coming here any more for corn unless you bring Benjamin, your father's darling." Now, Jacob and his family very much needed bread, but what a struggle it would be to give up this son. The orientals are very demonstrative in their grief, and I hear the outwailing of the father as these elder sons keep reiterating in his ears the announcement of the Egyptian lord, "Ye shall not see my face unless your brother be with you." "Why did you tell them you had a brother?" said the old man, complaining and chiding them. "Why, father," they said, "he asked us all about our family, and we had no idea he would make any such demand upon us as he has made." "No use of asking me," said the father, "I cannot, I will not, give up Benjamin."

The fact was that the old man had lost children; and when there has been bereavement in a household, and a child taken, it makes the other children in the household more precious. So the day for departure was adjourned and adjourned and adjourned. Still the horrors of the famine increased, and louder moaned the cattle and wider open cracked the earth and more pallid became the cheeks, until Jacob, in despair, cried out to his sons, "Take Benjamin and be off." The older sons tried to cheer up their father. They said: "We have strong arms and a stout heart, and no harm will come to Benjamin. We'll see that he gets back again." "Farewell!" said the young men to the father, in a tone of assumed good cheer. "F-a-r-e-w-e-l-l!" said the old man, for that word has more quavers in it when pronounced by the aged than by the young.

Well, the bread party—the bread embassy—drives up in front of the corncrib of Egypt. These corncribs are filled with wheat and barley and corn in the husk, for those who have traveled in Canaan and Egypt know that there is corn there corresponding with our Indian maize. Huzza! the journey is ended. The lord of the corncrib, who is also the prime minister, comes down to these arrived travelers, and says: "Dine with me today. How is your father? Is this Benjamin, the younger brother, whose presence I demanded?" The travelers are introduced into the palace. They are worn and bedusted of the way, and servants come in with a basin of water in one hand and a towel in the other, and kneel down before these newly arrived travelers, washing off the dust of the way. The butchers and poulterers and caterers of the prime minister prepare the repast.

The guests are seated in small groups, two or three at a table, the food on a tray; all the luxuries from imperial gardens and orchards and aquariums and aviaries are brought there, and are filling chalice and platter. Now is the time for this prime minister if he has a grudge against Benjamin to show it. Will he kill him, now that he has him in his hands? Oh, no! This lord of the corncrib is seated at his own table, and he looks over to the table of his guests, and he sends a portion to each of them, but sends a larger portion to Benjamin, or, as the Bible quaintly puts it, "Benjamin's mess was five times so much as any of theirs." Be quick, and send word back with the swiftest camel to Canaan to old Jacob that "Benjamin is well; all is well; he is faring sumptuously; the Egyptian lord did not mean murder and death; he is meant deliverance and life when he announced to us on that day, 'Ye shall not see my face unless your brother be with you.'"

Well, my friends, this world is famine struck of sin. It does not yield a single crop of solid satisfaction. It is dying. It is hunger bitten. The fact that it does not, can not, feed a man's heart was well illustrated in the life of the English comedian. All the world honored him—did everything for him that the world could do. He was applauded in England and applauded in the United States. He roused up nations into laughter. He had no equal. And yet, although many people supposed him entirely happy, and that this world was completely satiating his soul, he sits down and writes: "I never in my life put on a new hat that it did not ruin and ruin it. I never went out in a shabby coat because it was raining and thought all who had the choice would keep indoors that the sun did not burst forth in its strength and bring out with it all the butterflies of fashion whom I knew and who knew me. I never consented to accept a part I hated, out of kindness to another, that I did not get hissed by the public and cut by the writer. I could not take a drive for a few minutes with Terry without being overturned and having my elbow bone broken, though my friend got off unharmed. I could not make a covenant with Arnold, which I thought was to make my fortune without making his instead, than in an incredible space of time—I think thirteen months—I earned for him twenty thousand pounds and for myself one. I am persuaded that if I were to set up as a beggar, every one in my neighborhood would leave off eating bread." That was the lament of the world's comedian and joker. All unhappy. The world did everything for Lord Byron that it could do, and yet in his last moment he asks a friend to come and sit down by him and read, as most appropriate to his case, the story of "The Bleeding Heart." Tourigland, the sculptor, executed, after months of care and carving, "Madonna and the Child." The royal family came in and admired it. Everybody that looked at it was in ecstacy. But one day, after all that toil and all that admiration, because he did not get as much compensation for his work as he had expected, he took a mallet and dashed the exquisite sculpture into atoms. The world is poor compensation, poor satisfaction, poor solace. Famine, famine in all the earth; not for seven years, but for six thousand. But, blessed be God, there is a great corncrib. The Lord built it. It is in another land. It is a large place. An angel once measured it, and as far as I can calculate it in our phrase that corncrib is fifteen hundred miles long and fifteen hundred broad and fifteen hundred high, and it is full. Food for all nations. "Oh!" say the people, "we will start right away and get this supply for our soul." But stop a moment, for from the keeper of that corncrib there comes this word, saying, "You shall not see my face except your brother be with you." In other words, there is no such thing as getting from heaven pardon and comfort and eternal life unless we bring with us our Divine Brother, the Lord Jesus Christ. Coming without him we shall fall before we reach the corncrib, and our bodies shall be a portion for the jackals of the wilderness; but coming with the Divine Jesus, all the granaries of heaven will swing open before our soul and abundance shall be given us. We shall be invited to sit in the palace of the King and at the table; and while the Lord of heaven is apportioning from his own table to other tables, he will not forget us; and then and there it will be found that our Benjamin's mess is larger than all the others, for so it ought to be. "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive blessing and riches and honor and glory and power."

NO ADMISSION WITHOUT CHRIST.

I want to make three points. Every frank and common sense man will acknowledge himself to be a sinner. What are you going to do with your sins? Have them pardoned, you say. How? Through the mercy of God. What do you mean by the mercy of God? Is it the letting down of a bar for the admission of all, without respect to character? Be not deceived. I see a soul coming up to the gate of mercy and knocking at the corncrib of heavenly supply, and a voice from within says, "Are you alone?" The sinner replies, "All alone." The voice from within says, "You shall not see my pardoning face unless your Divine Brother, the Lord Jesus, be with you." Oh, that is the point at which so many are discomforted. There is no mercy from God except through Jesus Christ. Coming with him we are accepted. Coming without him, we are rejected.

Peter put it right in his great sermon before the high priests when he thundered forth: "Neither is there salvation in any other. There is no other name given under heaven among men whereby we may be saved." O anxious sinner! O dying sinner! O lost sinner! all you have got to do is to have this divine Benjamin along with you. Side by side, coming to the gate, all the storehouses of heaven will swing open before your anxious soul. Am I right in calling Jesus Benjamin? Oh, yes! Rachel lived only long enough to give a name to that child, and with a dying kiss she called him Benoni. Afterward Jacob changed his name, and he called him Benjamin. The meaning of the name she gave was "Son of my Pain." The meaning of the name the father gave was "Son of My Right Hand." And was not Christ the Son of Pain? All the sorrows of Rachel in that hour, when she gave her child over into the hands of strangers was nothing compared with the struggle of God when he gave up his only Son. The omnipotent God in a birth throe! And was not Christ appropriately called "Son of the Right Hand?" Did not Stephen look into heaven and see him standing at the right hand of God? And does not Paul speak of him as standing at the right hand of God making intercession for us? O Benjamin—Jesus! Son of pang! Son of victory! The deepest emotions of our souls ought to be stirred at the sound of that nomenclature. In your prayers plead his tears, his sufferings, his sorrows and his death. If you refuse to do it all the corn cribs and the palaces of heaven will be bolted and barred against your soul, and a voice from the throne shall stun you with the announcement, "You shall not see my face except your brother be with you."

THE WORLD'S SYMPATHY IS WEAK.

My text also suggests the reason why so many people do not get any real comfort. You meet ten people; nine of them are in need of some kind of condolence. There is something in their health, or in their estate, or in their domestic condition that demands sympathy. And yet the most of the world's sympathy amounts to absolutely nothing. People go to the wrong crib or they go in the wrong way. When the plague was in Rome a great many prayers arose, there were eight men who chanted themselves to death with the Litanies of Gregory the Great—literally chanted themselves to death, and yet it did not stop the plague. And all the music of this world cannot halt the plague of the human heart.

I come to some one whose ailments are chronic, and I say, "In heaven you will never be sick." That does not give you much comfort. What you want has soothing power for your present distress. Lost children, have you? I come to you and tell you that in ten years perhaps you will meet those loved ones before the throne of God. But there is but little condolence in that. One day is a year without them, ten years is a small eternity. What you want is sympathy now—present help. I come to those of you who have lost dear friends and say: "Try to forget them. Do not keep the departed always in your mind." How can you forget them when every figure in the carpet and every book and every picture and every room calls out their name.

Suppose I come to you and say by way of condolence, "God is wise." "Oh," you say, "that gives me no help." Suppose I come to you and say, "God, from all eternity, has arranged this trouble." "Ah!" you say, "that does me no good." Then I say, "With the swift feet of prayer go direct to the corn crib for a heavenly supply." You go. You say, "Lord, help me, Lord, comfort me." But no help yet. No comfort yet. It is all dark. What is the matter? I have found. You ought to go to God and say: "Here, O Lord, are the wounds of my soul, and I bring with me the wounded Jesus. Let his wounds pay for my wounds, his bereavements for my bereavements, his loneliness for my loneliness, his heartbreak for my heartbreak. O God! for the sake of the Lord Jesus Christ—the God, the man, the Benjamin, the brother—deliver my agonized soul. O Jesus of the weary foot, ease my fatigue. O Jesus of the aching head, heal my aching head. O Jesus of the Bethany sisters, roll away the stone from the door of our grave." That is the kind of prayer that brings help; and yet how many of you are getting no help at all, for the reason that there is in your soul, perhaps, a secret trouble. You may never have mentioned it to a single human ear, or you may have mentioned it to some one who is now gone away, and that great sorrow is still in your soul. After Washington Irving was dead they found a little box that contained a braid of hair and a miniature and the name of Matilda Hoffman, and a memorandum of her death and a remark something like this: "The world after that was a blank to me. I went into the country, but found no peace in solitude. I tried to go into society, but I found no peace in society. There has been a horror hanging over me by night and by day, and I am afraid to be alone."

FALSE AND FOOLISH PROMISES.

How many unuttered troubles! No human ear has ever heard the sorrow. Oh, troubled soul, I want to tell you that there is one salve that can cure the wounds of the heart, and that is the salve made out of the tears of a sympathetic Jesus. And yet some of you will not take this solace; and you try chloral, and you try morphine, and you try strong drink, and you try change of scene, and you try new business associations, and anything and everything rather than take the Divine companionship and sympathy suggested by the words of my text when it says, "You shall not see my face again unless your brother be with you." Oh, that you might understand something of the height and depth and length and breadth and immensity and infinity of God's eternal consolations.

I go further, and find in my subject a hint as to the way heaven opens to the departing spirit. We are told that heaven has twelve gates, and some people infer from that fact that all the people will go in without reference to their past life; but what is the use of having a gate that is not sometimes to be shut? The swinging of a gate implies that our entrance into heaven is conditional. It is not a monetary condition. If we come to the door of an exquisite concert we are not surprised that we must pay a fee, for we know that fine earthly music is expensive; but all the oratorios of heaven cost nothing. Heaven pays nothing for its music. It is all free. There is nothing to be paid at that door for entrance; but the condition of getting into heaven is our bringing our divine Benjamin along with us. Do you notice how often dying people call upon Jesus? It is the usual prayer offered—the prayer offered more than all the other prayers put together—"Lord Jesus receive my spirit."

One of our congregation, when asked in the closing moments of his life, "Do you know us?" said: "Oh, yes, I know you. God bless you. Goodby. Lord Jesus, receive my spirit;" and he was gone. Oh, yes, in the closing moments of our life we must have a Christ to call upon. If Jacob's sons had gone toward Egypt, and had gone with the very finest equipage, and had not taken Benjamin along with them, and to the question they should have been obliged to answer: "Sir, we didn't bring him, as father could not let him go; we didn't want to be bothered with him," a voice from within would have said: "Go away from us. You shall not have any of this supply. You shall not see my face because your brother is not with you."

MAN'S EXTREMITY, GOD'S TIME.

And if we come up toward the door of heaven at last, though we come from all luxuriance and brilliancy of surroundings, and knock for admittance and it is found that Christ is not with us, the police of heaven will beat us back from the bread-house, saying: "Depart, I never knew you." If Jacob's sons, coming toward Egypt, had lost everything on the way; if they had expended their last shekel; if they had come up utterly exhausted to the corncribs of Egypt, and it had been found that Benjamin was with them, all the storehouses would have swung open before them."

And so, though by fatal casualty we may be ushered into the eternal world; though we may be weak and exhausted by protracted sickness—if, in that last moment, we can only just stagger and faint and fall into the gate of heaven—it seems that all the corncribs of heaven will open for our need and all the palaces will open for our reception; and the Lord of that place, seated at his table, and all the angels of God seated at their table, and the martyrs seated at their table, and all our glorified kindred seated at our table, the king shall pass a portion from his table to ours, and then, while we think of the fact that it was Jesus who started us on the road, and Jesus who kept us on the way, and Jesus who at last gained admittance for our soul, we shall be glad if he has seen of the travail of his soul and been satisfied, and not be at all jealous if it be found that our divine Benjamin's mess is five times larger than all the rest. Hallelujah! saved of the Lord, thou art worthy.

My friends, you see it is either Christ or hades. If there were two banquets spread, and to one of them only you might go, you might stand and think for a good while as to which invitation you had better accept; but here it is feasting or starvation. If it were a choice between contention, you might say, "I prefer the 'Camelia,'" or "I prefer the 'Messiah.'" But here it is a choice between harmony and everlasting discord. Oh, will you live or die? Will you start for the Egyptian granaries, or will you perish amid the empty barns of the Canaanitish famine? "Ye shall not see my face except your brother be with you."

Fight With a Madman.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A startling story is telegraphed to this city from Deal, Kent, a seaside town near the southern extremity of the downs, eight miles from Dover. According to the report received, loud cries for help, mingled with groans and curses, were heard early this morning some distance seaward and almost directly off the town of Deal. Two local policemen immediately secured a boat and put to sea in order to enquire into the mysterious cries. The police, however, had been preceded and distanced by two Deal boatmen, who also went to the rescue. The boatmen found a boat of the ship C. L. Waters, and witnessed a horrible fight which was going on in the small craft. Crouching in the stern of the boat was her captain, holding a little boy on his left arm, and a young sailor, both desperately defending themselves against the attack of another man. The latter, according to the boatmen, was an athletic seaman and drunk, who was attacking the captain and the young sailor with his sheath knife. Upon the approach of the boatmen the drunken sailor threw the oars overboard and attacked them with his knife, and refused to allow them to rescue the occupants of the small boat. The mad seaman beat off the boatmen, and also beat off the police, who came upon the scene. The result was that the ship's boat was allowed to drift away in the mist and eventually disappeared. Later in the day the search for the drifting boat and its occupants was renewed, but up to 3 p.m. nothing had been received from Deal on the subject.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidneys or urinary organs of either sex.

THE MARIPOSA'S MAIL.

Advices From the Sandwich Islands and Australia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—The steamship Mariposa arrived to-day from Australia via Honolulu bringing Sydney advices to August 12 and Honolulu advices to August 28.

Hon. John Dominis, prince consort of Hawaii, died Aug. 26, from a sudden attack of pneumonia. He had been ill some time with gout, which turned to inflammatory rheumatism and pneumonia subsequently set in. Queen Liliuokalani was much affected by the death of her husband. The remains were lying in state at the palace when the steamer left, guarded by Captain Nowelie and forty men from the Royal barracks. The prince was born in Schenectady, N.Y., May 10, 1832. His father was an Italian, and his mother was an American lady of Boston. He was taken to Hawaii when a child. He came to California in 1849, during the gold excitement, and spent some time here. He was married to the present Queen of Hawaii some years ago.

The United States steamer Charleston arrived at Honolulu August 28, eight days from San Francisco.

A severe shock of earthquake occurred at the islands on August 25. As far as known no great damage was done.

A petition to wind up the affairs of the Imperial Banking Company of Melbourne was presented to Justice Webb on August 10, and made returnable on the 24th. The bank has suspended business with liabilities of £178,000, and assets of £220,000. At a meeting of stockholders it was charged that the directors had conducted affairs in a negligent and illegal manner. The chairman of the meeting said it was not anticipated that the company's affairs would be settled for a year or more.

Adelaide advices state that there is no prospect of getting the stranded vessel Theophane off the reefs between Miriam Kirby islands and the mainland before the spring tides. It is stated that the vessel got out of her course. The sailors deny that they refused to work the ship.

Government President Knight, of Northern territory, has forwarded a report to Adelaide on the murder of W. M. Calver, a wealthy stock owner, by Aralla, a native, on February 23. The latter was attacked and pursued by officers and was shot and killed.

A conference between representatives of the Sheep Shearers Union and pastoralists of the federal council of Australasia closed at Sydney on August 9. An agreement was signed to the effect that employers shall be free to employ and the shearers to accept employment, whether belonging to unions or not, without molestation.

Fifteen thousand pounds has been raised for the relief of flood sufferers in Victoria.

Ceylon advices of July 9 give the details of a double tragedy which occurred on the steamship Hohenzollern, which left Adelaide on June 22. Laurence M. Davidson eloped with Miss Ayliffe, reported to be the daughter of the Registrar-General of Births of Adelaide. A warrant has been issued for their arrest, and it is presumed this came to their knowledge, for as the vessel reached port Davidson shot himself through the head and the girl swallowed strychnine, dying shortly afterward.

The Katoomba, Mildura, Wallaroo, Tauranga and Einmarooma, five new cruisers of the auxiliary Australasia fleet, were warmly received on their arrival at Brisbane on August 7. The first three were built at Elswick, the others at Clydebank. They are all of the same dimensions, being 265 feet in length, with an extreme breadth of 41 feet, a mean draught of 15½ feet and displacement of 2500 tons. The armament of each consists of eight quick firing guns, eight three-pounders, several machine guns, and four torpedo guns. The squadron consists of seven vessels in all, five being of the second class of the protected cruisers type, and two are torpedo gunboats. The latter was expected to arrive shortly.

The Dalles Fire.

THE DALLES, Or., Sept. 4.—The Dalles to day presented a pitiable sight. Fully one-half of the city is in ashes. The beautiful shade trees which have been the most pleasing feature of the city are seared leafless trunks. The entire city east of Washington street is an ashy plain, with nothing to obstruct the view, as far as the warehouses at the extreme eastern limits. The blow to the city, serious though it is, cannot prove a knock-out. Several contracts for new buildings have been let to-day, and a short time will see the city again on its feet. Much of the furniture and personal effects from dwellings were either scattered about town or taken to the river beach and left unprotected. Under these circumstances, the Mayor considers it his duty to order out the militia, which patrolled the streets all last night and no doubt prevented a great deal of pillage. Many families are houseless and stripped of everything with the exception of the clothes they wear, but hospitality abounds and the relief committee are finding no trouble in providing beds and food for the unfortunates. The losses are partially covered by the following companies, who approximate their losses as follows: Scottish Union and National, $3500; Lion, $5000; California, $7000; Union of California, $5000; Guardian, $5000; Hartford, $6000; State Investment, $4500; Phœnix, $3500; Imperial, $3000; Traders, $500; London, $4500; Sun, $2000; London and Lancashire, $3000; Hamburg-Bremen, $6000; London, Liverpool and Globe, $25,000; American, $10,000; Oakland Home, $15,000; Commercial Union, $3750; New Zealand, $21,000; German-American, $11,000; Columbia, $6500; Hamburg-Magdeburg, $13,000; Continental, $1000. Besides these losses, there is about $75,000 carried by companies represented by Gibbons, MacAllister & Co. and others, whose records are either missing or burned. The loss by fire must approach $1,000,000, and the damages awarded by the adjusters will be over $200,000.

Cleopatra is Madame Bernhardt's ideal of highly organized woman with great attainments, strong passions and matchless beauty. One of the most powerful scenes in the play, and one which shows the rapid workings of mind and temperament, is that in which the Egyptian queen is told of Anthony's marriage to Octavia. First she threws the bearer of the news to the ground and stamps on him in rage, then she inquires and learns from him how inferior Octavia is, she passes almost into an ecstasy of pleasure at the thought of what power she must still wield over Anthony.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY

THE ABDUCTION CASE.

The Preliminary Examination Before the Police Magistrate To-Day.

The case against Ernest Fried, charged by August May with the abduction of his daughter, was up for preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate Belyea this morning. Mr. J. P. Walls appeared for the plaintiff and Mr W. J. Taylor for the defendant.

In stating the case for the prosecution Mr. Walls said they proposed to prove that the girl had been enticed from home two weeks ago. That her father had come to Victoria and found his daughter here living with Mr. and Mrs. Fried. Also that the girl said she was willing to accompany her father home, but had afterwards left him and returned to Fried's house, since which time he had not seen her.

August May, father of the girl, deposed that he had come over Thursday night and on Friday morning he set out to look for his girl. That he found her at one Fried's house. His daughter was willing to go with him. Heard Fried telling the girl to go along with her father and then leave him, and that he would get a lawyer and fix it up all right. The girl's mother and family are living in Seattle. She has lived with the family all her life with the exception of two months, when she lived with a sister of Mrs. Fried. She had worked in a box factory between three and four days a week. He noticed when he saw the girl Fried's that she had dresses and jewelery that she had never worn before. She left Fried's house and he saw her go into Fried's barber shop. She never returned. He went back to Fried's house, but was told that his daughter was not there. Went to Mrs. Fried's a third time with Officer McNeil but the daughter would not come away with him. He stated that Fried never refused to allow his daughter to go with him.

When court re assembled Mr. Walls asked that the proceedings might be stayed for a few minutes and that a couple of subpoenas might be made out for the arrest of the girl. His request was complied with.

May was then put in the box and Mr. Taylor went on with his cross-examination. The witness said his daughter was with him between 2 and 3 o'clock. He went to Fried's house afterwards with the officer and saw the girl. Never whipped his daughter since she was four years old. Never struck her. Never called her any names. She had learned typewriting. Afterwards worked in paper box factory. Never called her bad names. Sometimes she staid out late when she went to dances with her sister. Saw the magistrate in his room. The magistrate said witness had better go up town to a lawyer's office. The lawyer said he would send for Fried. The cross-examination was still going on when the paper went to press.

Her Face Her Fortune,

Is commonly said of famous beauties. She who uses with artistic taste Wisdom's Famous Robertine has fortune in the possessing of a complexion to which nothing but the blush of the rose or the freshness of the lily can be compared. This preparation is just what it is claimed to be—the most delightful toilet article and only perfect beautifier known. Read the testimonials from famous artists, celebrated chemists and eminent physicians. D. E. Campbell, agent.
